Full Job Description

Gerace Construction Company is a small/medium sized heavy civil GC based out of Midland, MI. We manufacture structural steel components for the hydroelectric industry in our AISC certified fabrication shop and produce architectural precast concrete. Currently we are looking for an Auto CAD Draftsman for structural steel and architectural precast projects. Detailing will include precast wall panels, foundations, footings, anchor bolts, rebar/re-steel, and miscellaneous (radial) structures for steel fabrication.

The Auto CAD Draftsman will support the development, design, and construction of facility-related projects from conception through construction.

The candidate should be highly motivated, possess good communication skills, and feel comfortable taking a leadership role as part of a project team. This position will involve the preparation of plans and specifications of systems relating to the design of industrial buildings and sites.
